2. Identified Strengths & Synergy Blocks

- High-Tier Educational Pedagogy: Joanne possesses a Master's degree in TESOL and a BA in Education from NYU, matching perfectly with the Specialist III's educational criteria.
- Strong Special Education (SPED) Grounding: She has direct experience as a Bilingual Spanish & ESL SPED Teacher in the Bronx, working with IEPs and SPED standards. This forms a perfect bridge to the Early Intervention Special Health Needs branch of the Department of Health.
- Advanced Training & Professional Development Skills: Her experience as a university lecturer, business writing instructor, MLL coordinator manual writer, and Praxis study cohort leader directly supports the PD's 75% focus on consultation and training.
- Generative AI Edge: She has designed and implemented Generative AI Literacy Initiatives, which can be leveraged to modernize the EI training materials and automate needs assessment reporting processes.

3. Potential Gap Analysis

- Infant & Toddler Focus (Birth to 3): Joanne's primary experience is K-5 elementary school, middle school, and higher education. The position description focuses on children birth to three (Early Intervention Section).
- Mitigation strategy: Emphasize her strong foundation in child development, SPED (IEPs), MTSS (Multi-Tiered Systems of Support), and parent/family-centered collaboration.
- IDEA Part C Specifics: Her past work has focused on IDEA Part B (school-age SPED/IEPs) and WIDA standards.
- Mitigation strategy: Emphasize her rapid adaptability, deep compliance auditing background, and familiarity with federal special education legislation (IDEA framework).
